

The Time Machine

Wolf

Gazing up to the Northern Star
The night is cold and the night is dark
And the moon

The moon is old and the moon is dead
Hanging there like a floating head

While we're crawling like worms here on planet Earth
A funeral for the future was held, but no one came
What a shame

If we ever build the time machine
Could we ever make things right?
What do you think?

Where's the great man in the sky?
Where has he gone, or did he hide?

While we're crawling like worms here on planet Earth
You know, blind men see no signs, for what it's worth

If we ever build the time machine
Could we ever make things right?
If we ever build the time machine
Would we ever make things right?

I think

A rocket launched into the unknown
Carrying our dreams
Passing by the Northern Star
With our childish fantasies
Godspeed to you!

Gazing up to another star
The night's still cold and my mind is dark

While we're crawling like worms here on planet Earth
A funeral for the future was held, it was beautiful

If we ever build the time machine
Could we ever make things right?
If we ever build the time machine
Would we ever make things right?

I think... not
What do you think?
