

Heritage of Fire

Wolfchant

Yeah

Dawn by a lightning
To mankind
Here in the darkest
Age of time
A flash of light
Fell from the sky
Heritage of fire
To live and to die

Dawn by a lightning
To mankind
Here in the darkest
Age of time
A flash of light
Fell from the sky
Heritage of fire
To live and to die

Feel the fire
In your hearts
The desires
From the dark
You will rise
Never to fall

Nature's forces
Were unleashed
Before you came
Into this world
To kill
But also to give life

Walk with the fire
Ride on the storm
The blood it will rush
Through your veins
Leave your traces
Carved in the stone
You are a sapient
The first of your race

Twilight
Twilight
When mankind sprout
Defenseless
Defenseless
No shelter and hope
No gods
No gods
To guide through the coldness
Against
And with the elements
You fought

Dawn by a lightning

To mankind
Here in the darkest
Age of time
A flash of light
Fell from the sky
Heritage of fire
To live and to die

Dawn by a lightning
To mankind
Here in the darkest
Age of time
A flash of light
Fell from the sky
Heritage of fire
To live and to die

Men had to learn
To walk with the winds
Spread out to survive
And reach to the sky
The sands of all times
That came from the stars
Once to create
And then to destroy
To destroy

And the will
To live and fight
Is your fever
And delight
The law that makes you
Carry on

Good and evil
It was born
From the twilight
In your hearts
Seeded
Once you appeared

Walk with the fire
Ride on the storm
The blood it will rush
Through your veins
Leave your traces
Carved in the stone
You are a sapient
The first of your race

Twilight
Twilight
When mankind sprout
