

They say that lightning never strikes twice
And now it's time to take another, roll the dice
You care too much of what others think
You can no longer let your dreams go down the sink
Time waits for no man
Either way, you've got no better plans

It's time to step up to the mantle
It's time to see what you can handle
In darkness, you light up the candle
It's time to step up to the mantle

To be the best, you must pass the test
Though in the end, there is no contest
You wish that you could run away and hide
There is something burning that you cannot deny
Time waits for no man
Either way, you've got no better plans

It's time to step up to the mantle
It's time to see what you can handle
In darkness, you light up the candle
It's time to step up to the mantle

It's time to step up to the mantle
It's time to see what you can handle
That ego needs to be dismantled
It's time to step up to the mantle