

Remove Your Mask

Wolfmother

Yours is a history that's written in stone
There was a lady who had built her own throne
You could have anything that you ever asked
To live in the moment and remove your mask
(Remove your mask)

I see you gathering up alibis
Never removing your disguise
I see your eagerness to wonder why
I see the crimson in your eyes

Remove your mask
(Remove your mask)

You built a plastic monument for all
You choose religion never showing your soul
Try to deny yourself and forget the past
You fear the moment when you remove your mask
(Remove your mask)

I see you gathering up alibis
Never removing your disguise
I see your eagerness to wonder why
I see the crimson in your eyes

Remove your mask
(Remove your mask)

I see you gathering up alibis
Never removing your disguise
I see your eagerness to wonder why
I see the crimson in your eyes

Remove your mask
Remove your mask
Remove your mask
