

A Perfect Alignment

Wolverine

Forged by the night
Tempered and aligned
Two fading lights
Broken shards now perfect as one

Never ending solitude
Safe and sound
In a confining void
Forever
It was to be forever
But you set me free

Chasing life through constant change
Never still always a hill to climb
Forever
A chase unto forever but
I gave you rest

Fiery stillness
A sacred balance of trust
Awaiting completion
Through our flaws we align

Finding
Sensing
Breathing
Tasting all you gave me

Tell me
Do you see it like me?

Watching
Listening
Biding
Seizing what I gave you

Forming
A perfect alignment of two hearts
