

PARASITE

Wolves At The Gate

You lie, parasite

No more I walk this path
My veins are clogged but still they overcame the lost
I feel it break me
Give me my fix
Poison his brains
Sell it with a venomous gaze
I die, I die
Everybody tries to kill the pain
With their own brand of Novocain and silence
Nothing I take will drown out the noise that lives inside
Every path that I tread still brings me back inside your jaws
To my open grave

Listen to the devil speak
Filling my veins with what I seek
And the venom tastes of your deceit
Listen to the devil speak

Every single word he spits dies
Every time I hear your voice, you lie
You lie
You lie

All I hear within
A voice is speaking of the prophecies of sin
I feel it beg me
Give me my fix
Poison his brains
Sell it with a venomous gaze
I hear you, you serpent

Listen to the devil speak
Filling my veins with what I seek
And the venom tastes of your deceit
Listen to the devil speak

And I died a million deaths to live
A parasite that feeds upon my open veins
And drains the river dry
Why do I feel this love for you?
Sing this broken melody
My enemy still sings his siren song

Contaminating
It sinks its claws
Reanimating
The serpent calls
Turning all my fear
Into desire
Boiling in my veins
Boiling in my veins

That hateful leech in my blood
Every single drop inside, poisoned
Circulate in my veins

All of the sin I've chosen
Dissociate misery from the poison
Reanimate the pain it brings
I am the enemy

And I died a million deaths to live
Why do I feel this love for you?

Why do I crave misery?
Reanimate the pain again, serpent
