

abstract art

Wrabel

Been a friend to you for some time now
See how you hide from the world
And I know you feel like you shouldn't cry, let it out
Cause you know everybody hurts
You, you don't know you're beautiful
You don't even have to try
I know growing up is difficult
But you gotta live your life

There's always gonna be someone trying to tear you apart
Always gonna be sticks and stones and broken hearts
They're gonna try and tell you who you are
Not everybody can understand abstract art

Abstract art

Where you see weakness, I see power
And some would pay any price
But it can't be bought, no it can't be sold
It's just your own design
You, you don't know you're beautiful
You don't even have to try
I know growing up is difficult
But you gotta live your life

There's always gonna be someone trying to tear you apart
Always gonna be sticks and stones and broken hearts
They're gonna try and tell you who you are
Not everybody can understand abstract art

Abstract art

You, you don't know you're beautiful
You don't even have to try
I know growing up is difficult
But you gotta live your life

There's always gonna be someone trying to tear you apart
Always gonna be sticks and stones and broken hearts
They're gonna try and tell you who you are
Not everybody can understand abstract art

Abstract art