happier

Wrabel

You were lying on the floor, taking my hand into yours
Something was different bout the way you held me
Tighter than you did before
Like you knew it was the end and I couldn't be your friend
I don't remember what you even said
I only know that it hurt

First I was angry, then sad
Lonely and miserable, I went through all that

Always letting you go, why's it always goes slow
Never thought I'd be happier but what do I know
Know a little more now, got over you somehow
Never thought I'd be happier but look at me happier

Now the rain is just the rain, and the pain is just the pain
And a long drive is a long drive, I'm alright, I'm okay

Used to get anxious, red mad
Lonely and miserable, you put me through that

Always letting you go, why's it always goes slow
Never thought I'd be happier but what do I know
Know a little more now, got over you somehow
Never thought I'd be happier but look at me happier
Look at me happier

Always letting you go, why's it always goes slow
Never thought I'd be happier but what do I know
Know a little more now, got over you somehow
Never thought I'd be happier but look at me happier

Happy, happy, happy, happier
Happy, happy, look at me happier
Happy, happy, happy, happier
Happy, happy, look at me happier
