

Afterglow

Wrekonize

You said that you would be here
For so long I knew you were
Now none of this don't seem fair
I'm calling you to serve

This house is not as full now
An emptiness occurs
I don't know where to be now
It's all somewhat a blur

They said we'd be forever
I never thought they'd lie
I must have been naive to think that we could just Outlive the ones who dived

Down down deep into the darkness
Where most of us don't go
I'll keep a light on just in case you come around and wanna
Whisper to my soul

I'm looking for you after the glow
I'm looking for you after the glow
I'll be searching for you after the glow
Cuz nobody could capture your glow
Afterglow

You told me in a dream that
You'd never really go
I was too blind to see that
You now live in my soul

I'll take you to the place now
Where we'd go to be alone
They'll never really place how
Our bond was made of stone

It's stronger now than ever
I thought that it was broke
It looks like we can spend it all together now
The time where does it go

Go tell those other cynics
That You won't be going back
And each and every visit
I'll be here to tell you that

I'm looking for you after the glow
I'm looking for you after the glow
I'll be searching for you after the glow
Cuz nobody could capture your glow
Afterglow
