

Congratulations, You're Mediocre

Write This Down

Well just let it happen, come on make it happen
We're taking the pieces of a fraction.
And don't you dare question this so called obsession with,
The things that make us different.

Never wanted but its started, now i'm calling it out.
You're scared of falling in love
I'm scared of letting you down
(2x)

I pray for the swiftness of angels..
that my feet might not touch the ground
(2x)

And all of our valor was just wasted talent, we're taking hope from disaster
. And all of our stories of short sided glories prove there's a devil inside u s all

Never wanted...
(2x)
(Whoever said good things must end, has never been, has never been, Whoever said good things must end, has never been to the end)

I pray...
(2x)

Just let it happen, just let it happen

We've got the devil inside us,
we've got the devil inside us all

Stay calm, Breathe slowly

Church bells are ringing, feel them move

Rest easy

Please don't be frightened, don't make a scene.
Face your demons.
Come on choir, bring us home.
Scream that chorus

Asking me to understand is like asking me to walk out on the water, God
I wish that i was stronger.
God I wish that I was..
(2x)

(we've got, we've got a disaster, we've seen this coming for some time,
We've got, we've got a disaster, we're sinking thru the floor)

I pray for the swiftness of angels
That my feet might not touch the ground.
