

Apathy (Is A Hell Of A Drug)

Written By Wolves

Let me get this started
Let me get this straight
You're telling me I should give into fate
And just accept the fact
My future's laid out by church and state

But it's justified
I should give in to all of your lies
What the hell what do I care
Let's all sit back now and enjoy the ride

'Cause you know that if we had the right to choose
To give a shit would not be on our list of things to do
Don't like you or agree with anything that you say
But to take you down can wait another day

The revolution is over
We've all gone home
We'll reimburse you for stones
That have yet to be thrown

The revolution is over
We all got bored
We'd like to thank you for being
A part of our cause

Revolution
Revolution
Revolution

So now you made the big time
And your name's in lights
And you just sold the movie rights
To your life and your struggle
Like the boy in the bubble
Oh my God
Well I think I might die
'Cause you're just so fake
Think I've had about all I can take
What's that you say I've got you all wrong
Oh sorry must be my mistake

So now you tell me what you think I wanna hear
Control the narrative and watch your problems disappear
You see I disagree but what's a boy to do
Why can't we have our cake and eat it too

The revolution is over
We've all gone home
We'll reimburse you for stones
That have yet to be thrown

The revolution is over
We all got bored
We'd like to thank you for being

Revolution
Revolution
Revolution

You won't fool me once
Won't fool me twice
Won't fool me three times
You're as cold as ice

But it's wearing thin
Where it cracks is where we'll begin
To start to see your empire falling
What's that I hear karma calling
So hold all bets
It's time to pay off your debts
See apathy's a hell of a drug
But this is as real as it gets

Yeah we quit the habit
Now we're standing here
The disenchanted youth
Have decided that they care
You woke a sleeping giant
What a stupid thing to do
Time is up, the game is over
Now you lose

The revolution is over
We've all gone home
That have yet to be thrown

The revolution is over
We all got bored
We'd like to thank you for being
A part of our cause

The revolution is over
We've all gone home
That have yet to be thrown

The revolution is over
We all got bored
