

There's space that's always empty
There's a ghost without a name
There's the whisper of the candle
At the snuffing of the flame
And they say its really nothing
Just to disappear in pain, ah

Where do you go to, my love?
Where do you go to, my love?
Where do you go to, my love?

And when it rains in Arizona
And the desert flowers bloom
There's a wind that blows to Boston
And it sings the saddest tune
Well your mama she's a beauty
And your daddy's eyes are blue, ah

Where do you go to, my love?
Where do you go to, my love?
Where do you go to, my love?
Yeah

Ooh, and I never meant to hurt you
Or to tear you from this life
And I'm sorry if you suffered
When they turned out all the lights
But you're woven in the verses
Of this broken lullaby

Where do you go to, my love?
Where do you go to, my love?
Where do you go to, my love?
Where do you go to, my love?
Where do you go to, my love?
Where do you go to?

Where do you go to, my love?
Everything I owed you, my love
Heaven will hold you, my love
