

Have a Little Faith

Wynette Tammy

Your best friend, your best girl
Just made a big mess of your world
'Cause arm in arm they left you feelin' blue
She set a trap, you got caught you should a took her with a grain of salt
So have a little faith and love will come to you.

So she's leaving for somebody new She's even got you believing
There's nothing you can do
But brush that teardrop off of your face
And put a smile back in its place

Beyond the clouds the sky is always blue.

So don't be lonely and don't be blue
Your one and only is somewhere waitin' just for you
But two lovin' arms to hug your neck
Right around the corner where your least expect She'll be there with love to pull you through.

Just have a little faith and love will come to you...
