Still Around

Wynette Tammy

To make you stay I'll never try And when you go I will not cry But for a time I might be found somewhere live still around But may you find a love that's true Someone to love and cherish you And if you love your whole life through And may you love as I love you But if you'll ever feel alone With no true love to call your own And if you'll need a place to hide These arms of mine are open wide And if a troubled love brings you pain My love is all like summer rain Always remember I'll be found still around
