It's lonelier now 'cause I'm lonely without
You smoking weed in my parents old house
Got lonelier when I became king
'Cause I got it all but I got nothing

Don't you lie and say you're fine 'cause
I know lately you've been dying for life

Is it like you dreamt when you were ten?
Got into mentions, the parties don't end
It could be grand but it's less than you planned
Throw you a party, would cry to the end

So don't you lie and say you're fine 'cause
I know lately you've been dying for life

Built up these walls so nobody could see me
But now I feel trapped here, my nose won't stop bleeding
Built up these walls so nobody could see me
But now I feel trapped here, my nose won't stop bleeding

So don't you lie and say you're fine 'cause
I know lately you've been dying for life
