

Kitchen Light

Xana

She got in my car, said "take me home"
Pulled up to her house but that's not what she wants
So I bring her to mine
We stumble inside
We didn't even make it past the kitchen light
You could break my heart
I know that you tried
But I'm glued to my bed when it's raining outside
Kept my window open since our last encounter
Can't stop thinking 'bout how we fucked in the shower
You're blushing your cheeks and I'm falling for it
'Cause everything sweet comes with a warning
I'll keep you close but don't tell my mother
We sleep without clothes under my covers
Now you ditch your party and that's when you call me
And none of your friends have a clue where you're going
So where are we going?

I can't be wrong to be
Can't be wrong to be craving you
I can't be wrong to be
Can't be wrong to be craving
I can't be wrong to be
Can't be wrong to be craving you
Craving you

Now you're at the bar holding his hand
And I can't be mad 'cause he's your man
But I could be handsome
I could be kind
And I would keep you up all fuckin night
Now that your boyfriend is blowing up your phone
You're going out and I'm going solo
Walking 'round town with my hands in my pockets
Hoping I see you but not counting on it
I tried to move on but it never seemed right
And I broke my own heart a few fuckin times
I know it ain't fair to somebody new
Can't let go of the love I still have for you
A couple of seasons
A couple of bodies
A couple of tears and you finally call me
"Lover I've missed you"
You don't even know
"Do you think there's someplace we could go"
And I love the way that she talks real quiet
You know she's afraid but can't keep it inside
And I think she might be the love of my life
But how we ever gonna know if we keep it on the low
No, no

I can't be wrong to be
Can't be wrong to be craving you
I can't be wrong
I can't be wrong
I can't be

You tell me everything you never say out loud
On my bedroom floor until we pass out
And when we wake up you wanna make out
You wanna make out
We drive in your car
The stereo loud
If you break my heart I'll break your mouth
If we leave this town we're gonna make it out
We're gonna make it now

You can take a piece of me baby
Wrap those hands around my body
I'll be your home and you be my party
Loving all night until the fire burns out
We'll start another with the ruins around
Can't stop a lover with the love that we found

We didn't even make it past the kitchen light
We didn't even make it past the kitchen light
We didn't even make it past the kitchen light
We didn't even make it past the kitchen light
We didn't even make it past the kitchen light
We didn't even make it past the kitchen light
We didn't even make it past the kitchen light
We didn't even make it past the kitchen light

You tell me everything you never say out loud
On my bedroom floor until we pass out
And when we wake up you wanna make out
You wanna make out
We drive in your car
The stereo loud
If you break my heart I'll break your mouth
If we leave this town were gonna make it out
We're gonna make it now

You can take a piece of me baby
Wrap those hands around my body
I'll be your home and you be my party
Loving all night until the fire burns out
We'll start another with the ruins around
Can't stop a lover with the love that we found
The love we found

I think she might be the love of my life
But how we ever gonna know if we keep it on the low
Well, my lover, she knows
Yeah, my lover, she knows
Yeah, my lover, she knows
My lover, she knows
She knows, she knows
