Xavier Rudd

I know, I see, I feel and yes I fear it everyday
These ego's there minds and games
With all their power could end our days
Still the sun it shines and the moon it sinks with grace
It's such a shame that all this shit exists
Here on this earth, this magical place

I'm doing fine

Yes you have the funds and size and power to make some change
What you have will break their smiles
So many people so many ways
Each Child who walks their line
Should be free to run their race
It's such a shame that all this shit exists here on this earth, this magical place

I'm doing fine
