Hey, boy who is standing still over there
Surrounded by monsters
Has his head down
Only staring at the ground endlessly while grinding his teeth
To be or not to be
Why did it turn out this way
Hate it, But I can't give up
Because the protagonist of the story is me

Half is despair, half is hope
I need to win eventually, until the last episode

Putting forth my fist in the worst case scenario
How many ever time until the other one will be knocked out
I'll present to you huge emotions and tears
In order for the viewer to never be able to forget

I will make you dream
Nothing's impossible
Impossible for me to be impossible
Even if I collapse, I'll get up in the end, I'll never die

The bloody battle that's so close each time
Punches by the enemies coming in quick
I'm looking for my chance in it now
The crack that'll change this game around in reverse

Trial, wandering, can't stop
Must achieve the dream until the last episode

Putting forth my fist in the worst case scenario
How many ever time until the other one will be knocked out
I'll present to you huge emotions and tears
In order for the viewer to never be able to forget

I'm still standing here
The world view with the enemies sprawling out is already chaotic
This hopeless moment in anyone's eyes

Putting forth my fist in the worst case scenario
How many ever time until the other one will be knocked out
I'll present to you huge emotions and tears
In order for the viewer to never be able to forget

I will make you dream
Nothing's impossible
Impossible for me to be impossible
Even if I collapse, I'll get up in the end, I'll never die
