

Fire

Xenia

You see I can't feel my legs
'Cause I've been walking for hours
Oh I made a mistake
And now it's turning me sour

'Cause all, all my life I've
Oh all this time I've let you win
Now you've started a fire

Oh the life of a liar
It's made me weak in the knees
From all these burning desires
They knock me off of my feet

'Cause all, all my life I've
Oh all this time I've let you win
Now you've started a fire

As I look at your face
You pull dark and devour
Trying to steal my place
Like a thief in the shadows

'Cause all, all my life I've
Oh all this time I've let you win
Now you've started a fire

You see me try to make me feel alone
But then I realize I was never on my own
Oh look at what you've done
Oh it's time to let it go

'Cause all, all my life I've
Oh all this time I've let you win
And you started a fire
