

The Slightest Sound

XP8

Should we sleep, for a while?
Will you weep, or spit your bile?
Drench me like the rain
Wash my tears away again
I can't resist my only fate
Why are you so easy to hate?
You lift me from the floor
So easy to adore
Tearing me down anew
The same old thing you have to do
I'm the one you really need
Why do you want to make me bleed?
I know I'll fail your little test
I feel you pulling at my flesh
Your passion holds me like a storm

I need your breath to keep me warm
The slightest sound can drag me down
Your sweetest smile, like a distant isle
You're the light in my dark
But your shadow leaves its mark
I'll give you my control
Feel my pulse and taste my soul
Your hands are cold, around my heart
Slowly pulling me apart
The slightest sound can drag me down
Your sweetest smile, like a distant isle
You're the light in my dark
But your shadow leaves its mark
Take the place next to me
I'll take your fears and make them cease
I close my eyes
I need your kiss
There's nothing more I need than this
