Hey, hey
When you grind for a living
(Yeah)

I found my passion and my patience
Okay wait, now let me demonstrate
I've been benefittin' from this since I was twenty-eight
Fresh on my mind, one at a time
Let me innovate a way up out here without rhyme, k I'm fine
I'm on the interstate
I hit the stage for all the homies that I'll thank but ain't getting a dinner plate
Appreciate the gesture but just learn
I see the long term a little more than y'all from round here
So let me jot all these feelings instead of filling prescriptions
Turn the feelings to words, turn the sentence to digits
If this is for recreation then I might just skip it
But if this is competition, then I'm right here pissin'
This season we undefeated, last year winless
Judge the track by the listens, and the bag by the millions
Got 'em jumpin' the fences, just to mind their own business
Hide the women and children, guess that makes me a villain

When you grind for a living (Hey)
One day you'll shine, one day you'll shine, one day you'll shine
When you grind for a living (Hey)
One day we'll shine, one day we'll be, we'll be just fine

I found passion in recreation, my art is my craft
I raise the bar and put it all on the graph
I keep my one eye CBS, on the GPS
For peeps who wanna see you stressed and fall off of your path
Through hours of Jedi training you could say I made some right decisions
My homie schooled me to the poison like he Michael Bivins
Some people like the Venom, but my mission
Before I fell in love with Mary Jane I had to have my Spidey senses
Suit by Tony Stark, sad that I can't starch it
Car got Ned Stark, man I took the top off it
Park the invisible car on the red carpet
Don't beg for a thing, don't even beg pardon
Is what I told the homie, know that's it's your time for it
Tom Fords on Grammy night, is on my mind for it
Top notch delivery, you gotta sign for it
You not gon' get it G, unless you grind for it

When you grind for a living (Hey)
One day you'll shine, one day you'll shine, one day you'll shine
When you grind for a living (Hey)
One day we'll shine, one day we'll be, we'll be just fine
