

Never Change

Yael Naim

Sometimes I'm tired
Of hurting then promising each time
I say I'm sorry
But things will never change this way

Some things will never change this time
Some things will be the same from time to time
Don't be afraid to stay by my side
Some things will never change your mind

Oh I've started to lose just a bit every time
Oh I've tried to be good and be kind
I try to give you some space to be
But all I do makes you run away from me

Some say I'm crazy
But I think I'm lazy, sometimes
But somethings will never change unless I find
That thing that makes you change your mind

Some things will never change this time
Some things will be the same from time to time
Don't be afraid to stay by my side
Some things will never change your mind

While signs and stars above you seem to remind you
When everything inside you keeps on haunting you
Why everything around you seems to touch you
It's like every thing is wrong

Some things will never change this time
I'll never be the same from time to time
Don't be afraid to stay by my side
'cause some things might always change with time

Mmm...

Don't be afraid to stay by my side
Some things might always change with time
