Were you disappointed?
That the love we felt at first has changed
Were you let down?
That even some trivial little words drove us apart
That it has not been the love you thought it was

How are you these days?
In the early morning, the beginning of the day
Has always been the hardest; won't it always be too much to handle?
I can't forget you even for a moment,
Suddenly I'd think of you

In a way even now, it's like you're still next to me

I know it now

Seeing myself like this, I deeply regret

That I couldn't say how I felt and how it hurt you

I can't forget you even for a moment

I think I'll always regret it

Even now, it's like you're still next to me

Even now, I still love you forever

As you had been, next to me
