

Through the night

Yang Da li

We were laughing in the sun
And singing in the rain
Never thought we'd be here feeling so badly
Goodbyes are never good
But we handled ours well
Maybe it was all a dream
But why do we ache like this?
What led us away?
No matter how I think it through
This pain just shouldn't stay
But still it lingers, why?
Do you know why we're feeling like this?
Can you tell me how?

Our ending's harder than I ever thought
It would be if we hadn't walked away that day

Through the night
We'll be rolling around on our bed
Like we've done, but we can't anymore
When I close my eyes, I'm thinking about then
When we were together on our own bed

Remember our love was anything but plain
There'd be nobody to roll our ending credit
Why? Oh why were we so into each other
Like we never knew what was holding us down

Our ending's harder than I ever thought
It would be if we hadn't walked away that day

Through the night
We'll be rolling around on our bed
Like we've done, but we can't anymore
When I close my eyes, I'm thinking about then
When we were together on our own bed

If we could go back to our first dawn
If we could go back to our last night
I don't know if I'll face you like then
Forever never say you like that

Through the night
We'll be rolling around on our bed
Like we've done, but we can't anymore
When I close my eyes, I'm thinking about then
When we were together on our own bed
