

Light the fire, fire
Wanna fill myself with all the smoke, oh
Boy, my body's tired
Pour some honey down my heavy throat

And, oh, I wanna break that spell that he taught me
Kiss and tell but I stumble at the sound it makes
Would it shock me?
No one knows what I know

I can hear you calling
For a taste of my body
I can hear you calling
I can hear you, coyote

In a blue haze, that we measure from your eyes to mine, I
It's a soul race, only one of us escapes alive, I

And, oh, I wanna break that spell that he taught me
Kiss and tell but I stumble at the sound it makes
Would it shock me?
No one knows what I know

I can hear you calling
For a taste of my body
I can hear you calling
I can hear you, coyote
Shoot the arrow
I can't see
I shoot the arrow
I can't breathe
I can hear you calling
I can hear you, coyote

Drive all night through the canyons
Sing to me with your secret little mouth
I'm just your companion
Loving me is just for show

And do you wanna pave the streets with my secrets
You're so mean to this tiny brittle heart
The road runs beneath you, but you've got nowhere to go

I can hear you calling
For a taste of my body
I can hear you calling
I can hear you, coyote
Shoot the arrow
I can't see
I shoot the arrow
I can't breathe
I can hear you calling
I can hear you, coyote
