

All I Ever Wanted

Yebba

I walked across the wire
Straight to the razor's edge for you
Cut through my own desire
Only to watch you hold her

Don't you know
I tried to call
But can I stay the night?
You whisper "one more time"
Turning my tears into diamonds that fall through your sky
And after all that you promised

All I ever wanted was you
And now I know we both got our obligations but
All I ever wanted was you

I dreamt that we were fallin'
But it was just a pouring rain
No heat worth holding onto
So I grabbed my shit to leave again

Don't you know
I tried to call
But can I stay the night?
You whisper "one more time"
Turning my tears into diamonds that fall through your sky
And after all that you promised

All I ever wanted was you
And now I know we both got our obligations but
All I ever wanted was you
And yes I know that you promised her everything but
All I ever wanted was you
And yes I know you promised her everything but I can't wait too lon-lon-long on you my baby
All I ever wanted was you
And now I know that we'll never have the conversation
All I ever wanted was you
I know you promised her everything but baby
All I ever wanted was you (Ooh yeah)
(All I ever wanted was you, all I ever wanted was you)
(All I ever wanted was you, all I ever wanted was you)
