

Waterfall

Yebba

Deep in my mind
Even my inner critic
Is still a mystic
You're unrefined
Raw and uncut like the prisms
Bending time to time

Mirrors break, they multiply
Fuck what they say
These feelings don't subside
Obsessions fade
Over time
But what remains, love is whatever we make it tonight

Did they mention the pride before the fall?
('Cause I would risk it all for you)
What they say 'bout the writings on the wall?
(No clue, baby, I adore you)

Baby, I adore (I adore)
I adore you
Baby I adore (I adore)

Find a couple threads
They run from my head through this mattress
As it spins on its axis
You're heavy as lead
Pressing that cross on your necklace
Against my chest

Mirrors break, just to multiply
Obsessions fade
Over time
What can I say?
These feelings don't subside
And what remains, love is whatever we make it tonight

Did they mention the pride before the fall?
('Cause I would risk it all for you)
What they say 'bout the writings on the wall?
(No clue, baby, I adore you)

Baby, I adore (I adore)
I adore you
Baby I adore (I adore)

Hope you don't take it wrong if I call you late
Intentions test blurry at this time of night
Would it even be love if I made you wait
I know you never see things through my eyes
But I promise

I'd do anything for
Love
Love
Baby, I, baby, I adore you

To make sure you always find your way back
So we can breathe
Baby, I adore you
To adore is to love deeply
