Run Johnny

Yelawolf

He's been blind
And he's feeling that it's time to make up his mind

At the lake by the trees in the creek is a man
By the woods in a house with a gun in his hand
How betrayed could I be, who would do this to me
As he stood over death, he became empty
The thunder echoed through the valley
The shot was heard by many
He took the life of a woman
Lies. Lust. Envy
How did I get to this point?
The dirt is burgundy brown
Anxiety takes over Johnny
Johnny cannot hear a sound
Run Johnny!

The dark angel is coming
Voodoo beats drummin'
Johnny, you better start running
Before you meet the bloodhound
Red rain is comin' down
Redrum. Johnny's in town

On his boots is a stain
On his shirt is a name
On his soul is a pain
On his life is a game
On his sleeve is a fault
On his eyes, there's a fear
On his back is a clock
And his time is near
The woods will provide a home while I run from the sheriff and dogs
I'm wet and I'm cold from the night
In the morning I'll move in the fog
How will I ever survive in society, now that I'm wanted?
How will I tell 'em a lie when I'm already haunted
Haunted Johnny
You're haunted Johnny

The dark angel is coming
Voodoo beats drummin'
Johnny, you better start running
Before you meet the bloodhound
Red rain is comin' down

At the point of no return
The sun is setting
The Father is disappointed
And the son is regretting
The wind is picking up
Can I weather the storm?
Should I just give it up?
Lord, why was I born?
Day three in the valley
I know the boys are gettin' close

I'm exhausted from running
And I don't know where to go
How could I tell my family?
Allow 'em to live in the shame
With this body on my gun
And with murder on my name
Murder's on your name, Johnny
Murder

The dark angel is coming
Voodoo beats drummin'
Johnny, you better start running
Before you meet the bloodhound
Red rain is comin' down
Redrum. Johnny's in town

I'm exhausted from running
And I don't know where to go
How could I tell my family?
Allow 'em to live in the shame
With this body on my gun
