

Dear Bobbie

Yellowcard

Dear Bobbie,
C Emi

Do you remember when you were young and very pretty? I do, I remember pleated skirts, black and white saddle shoes. Do you remember dancing that night?
I do, I still think of you when we dance, although we can't jitterbug as we did then.

C Ami
Do you remember when
C
How long has it been?
Ami F
1945 you opened my blue eyes
G
To see a whole new life
C
Do you remember when
Ami
I told you this that night,
C
That if you're by my side
Ami
When everyday begins
F
I'll fall for you again
G
I made a promise when
C
I told you this that night

F
And I'll be fine
C G Ami
Cause when I die, then I die loving you
C F
It's all right, I'll be fine
C G Ami
Cause when I die, then I die loving you
F G
Loving you, loving you.

C Emi

Do you remember the times we would give up on each other and get back together, then we finally were married in 1949. We drove the yellow convertible all night long.
Do you remember? I do.

C Ami
Life has led us here
C
Together all these years

This house that we have

F
Holds twenty-thousanddays
G
And memories we'vesaved
C
Since life has lead ushere

F
And I'll befine
C G Ami
Cause when Idie, than Idie lovingyou
C F
It'salright, I'll befine
C G Ami
Cause when Idie, than Idie lovingyou
F G
Lovingyou, loving you.

F G

C Ami
I'm coming home toyou
C
Stepping off myshoes
Ami
Resting in mychair
F
See you standingthere
G
The silver in yourhair
C
I'm coming home toyou

Ami C
When I laytonight, when I close myeyes
Ami
I know the sun willrise
F
Here the nextlife
G C
As long as your stillmine, then it'salright

F
I'll befine
C G Ami
Cause when Idie, than Idie lovingyou
C F
It'salright, I'll befine
C G Ami
Cause when Idie, than Idie lovingyou
F G
Lovingyou, loving you.

C Emi

You have gray hair now but you're a beautiful women and the years have been good to both us.
We walk slow now, but we still have eachother. The glue of love is still bonding us together.
That is what I remember. Do you remember?
