Little Mirror

I cannot feel myself I can't hear my voice Moving without motion I have no other choice

Little mirror on the wall Tell me what I see I can't believe it all Is it really me

We are watching you We know the truth Don't try to hide We see everything

I'm here and everywhere But I'm alone I have many places That I call home little mirror...

I'm lost in paradise I know what's all about Now that I paid the price I can't log out
