Yerin Baek

I think it's enough
Would've already walked out
If only I could
But the truth is that I should
I should've been more selfish or more weightless
I just couldn't be like others

Naive me, you got along with
I should've felt much happier
But I'm still not that wise, never been wiser
You never said goodbye with lips
But I feel like I heard it for real

Why can't I just love like normal
Like made up happy ending, all the pretending
Or hiding feelings

Want to be just like you once
Make it up If I do wrong
Ignore and leave the silence

I'm pretty sure you don't know how
You could have turned us into
Better situations
No stupid talk, neither sweet talks
Still think bout when I've let you in
I couldn't help it for real

Why can't I just love like normal
Like made up happy ending, all the pretending
Or hiding feelings

Want to be just like you once
Make it up If I do wrong
Ignore and leave the silence
