

That's Why

Yerin Baek

I was walking on the bridge
People passed me by slowly
And the weather was cloudy
Felt so empty suddenly
It set my mood perfectly
It's nobody's fault I know
But I have to blame it on you
Bet you would deny it
That you're always making me
Can't fight with your gravity
Ain't never ready for this
That's why that's why
I found why I got
All those feelings a lot of sadness
Always you left me alone
Me alone here
But you're still there
In my heart
You know you should know
Why I cry
Why I cry
Why I cry
Like I said it on the verse
Everyday you get on my nerves
You're so good at pull and push
I got worse at drying my tears
I felt like dying for these few weeks
When I see you around
You make me feel damn alive
Bet you would deny it
That you're always making me
Can't fight with your gravity
Ain't never ready for this
That's why that's why
I found why I got
All those feelings a lot of sadness
Always you left me alone
Me alone here
But you're still there
In my heart
You know you should know
Hope you know I tried
Hope you know I cried
You're not forcing or anything
I'm always dragged by your eyes
I know I'll be fine
As this time goes by
Even now you're breathing in me
Even now you're breathing in me
I found why I got
Me alone here
But you're still there
In my heart

Why I cry
Why I cry
Why I cry
Why I cry
