

Adore, Adore

Yoav

This is the story that time forgot
And though some names have changed
Some names, some names have not

Tune in every night at six o'clock
You can open up a magic box and see me there
Ready or not, here I come, I'm free, yeah

I got so many names, like Lucifer Longtail suffice
So many faces, so many devices
In a sweet smile of the talk show host
To the suicide celebrity ghost

That, that's me, yeah
The ace in the hall of America's soul

Adore adore, bow down before
Bow down before, adore adore
A star is born, you start to fall
Down on your knees and adore me

And now we already know the news is bought and sold
By the man with the plan and the corporate gold
And we already know that the story can change
At the roll of a dice, reality rearranges

That's me, yeah
I'm everywhere you did not think I could be so

Adore adore, bow down before
Bow down before, adore adore
A star is born, you start to fall
Down on your knees and adore me

And I'll be there in the secrets that you're dreaming
And I'll be there when you wake up in the morning
And I'll be there when you get home in the evening
Til the days of your life is done

This is the song that the caged bird sings
Curled up like a cat at the corner of everything
Don't feel bad even if you could Cause if you did not do it someone else just would

It's easy, believe me
I'll show you such wonderful things
I'll show you such wonderful things
Til you're just like me

Adore adore, bow down before
Bow down before, adore adore
A star is born, you start to fall
Down on your knees and adore me

Adore adore, bow down before
Bow down before, adore adore
A star is born, you start to fall

Down on your knees and adore me

Adore adore, bow down before
Adore adore, bow down before
Adore adore, bow down before
Adore adore, bow down before
