

Dead Ringer

Yoke Lore

I'll sleep when I'm older
And I'll die when I'm done
When the nights almost over
I curse the sun cause I'm forever young

And when your heart fall hits and you want to forget
You give me shiver down ways to believe in the rest
I got the words for the feelings that were stuck in your chest

Try to find change, but I run like a river
I never knew love, but you're a dead ringer

Try to find change, but I run like a river
I never knew love, but you're a dead ringer
(You're a dead ringer, you're a dead ringer)

And you can have it all
(And you can have it all, and you can have it all)
And you can have it all
(And you can have it all, and you can have it all)

I'll burn like a red brand
And I don't mind the cold
But I'll run slow for your soft hands
And I'll freeze when you go

And when your heart fall hits and you want to forget
You give me shiver down ways to believe in the rest
I got the words for the feelings that were stuck in your chest

Try to find change, but I run like a river
I never knew love, but you're a dead ringer

Try to find change, but I run like a river
I never knew love, but you're a dead ringer
(You're a dead ringer, you're a dead ringer)

Try to find change, but I run like a river
I never knew love, but you're a dead ringer
(And you can have it all, and you can have it all)
And you can have it all
(And you can have it all, and you can have it all)
And you can have it all
(And you can have it all, and you can have it all)
And you can have it all
