Time

Yolanda Adams

Time
What you gonna do with yours
Why do you need some more?
What you gonna do with your time?
Seems like it's infinite, but it really isn't
We have a small amount of time

Folks depend on you, do what you got to do
But never ever waste your time
Yes it's time to take a place
What you gonna do today
What you gonna do with your time?

I thought about it a few years back
What if we never got off track? (Time)
And if we never got distracted
Who would be further or still be passing? (Time)
Thought the love walks, the love mandate
Would we listen, would we participate? (Time)
When we decide that we must do
Everything that we were born to do cause

Everyone has a plan, destiny
Everyone that includes you and me
Everyone has a plan, destiny
That includes you and me

So in this season, will you waste your time?
In this season, will you make up your mind
To move forward in and move ahead?
Enough to waste this time, get in, don't waste your

Time
What you gonna do with yours
Why do you need some more?
What you gonna do with your (Don't waste your) time?
Seems like it's infinite, but it really isn't
We have a small amount of (Why would you waste your) time

Folks depend on you, do what you got to do
But never ever waste your time
Yes it's time to take a place
What you gonna do today
What you gonna do with your time?

So the path we must take
Must lead to love instead of hate (Time)
Must lead the truth instead of lies
All accepted, none despised (Time)
Because of color, race or creed
We are His children and we must believe (Time)
The pressure's time is ticking away
Why we waste greatness every time?

What you gonna do with yours
Why do you need some more?
What you gonna do with your time?

Seems like it's infinite, but it really isn't
We have a small amount of time

To everything there is a season
To everything there is a purpose (Time)
What will your life say, will you stray away
Will your words delight you (Time)
Or will your words fight you?
Make every moment count, time is running out
Remember, you're a child of God (Time)
