YONAKA

I feel I'm terrified, you've got that look in your eyes
Your mouth spits gold as you plant seeds into my mind
You say I'm in denial, I say I've got morals
I cannot trust the face of a man when he is not loyal

She is needy
Please don't take her
She reeks danger
A suffocator
Keep on pleading
She's a master
You can't take her
You'll suffocate her

You underestimate the hate that she can take
There's always others, there's another who can accommodate
Attend to all her needs, pleasures and fantasies
She's full of honey, but no money can buy things that she needs

She is needy
Please dont take her
She reeks danger
A suffocator
Keep on pleading
She's a master
You can't take her
You'll suffocate her

You've fallen deep into my web again, I watched you fall
I only want you when I'm up again, up again, up again, no one to call
I can't find peace of mind
I'm up again, up again, up again, I've hit a wall

You are someone I see, to shun reality
I like it for a while until I'm in so deep I can't breath
I've got to make amends, shake hands with other men
Release me from this leash that's wrapped so tightly around my neck

She is needy
Please don't take her
She reeks danger
A suffocator
Keep on pleading
She's a master
You can't take her
You'll suffocate her

You've fallen deep into my web again, I watched you fall
I only want you when I'm up again, up again, up again, no one to call
I can't find peace of mind
I'm up again, up again, up again, I've hit a wall

You've fallen deep into my web again, and now you want to disappear
You've fallen deep into my web again, and now you want to disappear

You've fallen deep into my web again, I watched you fall
I only want you when I'm up again, up again, up again, no one to call

I can't find peace of mind
I'm up again, up again, up again, I've hit a wall
