

Heavens Window

YONAS

I've been starin'
Out this window that...
Out this window that...
That...
That...

I think I need a lil' more time
I'm not ready to cross that line
To the other side
So hold it down until we meet again
I think I need a lil' more time
I'm not ready to cross that line
To the other side
So hold it down until we meet again

Yeah, stay swole, pockets on Lizzo
But that ain't the number one thing that I love fo'
If I could do anything, I'd rewind time
'Cause all I want's memories playin' if I die tonight
And maybe this life I could slow down
Have some friends and the wind's where you blowin' now
I know you gone, but I still need advice
I've been starin' all night if heaven had a window, yeah

If it did, I would look through
And I'd tell you I feel your pain
Don't worry though, I'll hold it down until we meet agai-

I think I need a lil' more time
I'm not ready to cross that line
To the other side
So hold it down until we meet again
I think I need a lil' more time
I'm not ready to cross that line
To the other side
So hold it down until we meet again

Yo, if heaven had a window
I'd wave to my pops, tell him the advice you gave me came to life
Tenfold
Miss the days when everything seemed simple
Was a teen without a father, it's hard not to be resentful, yeah
Let me know if you're feelin' alright
You ain't gotta say it, I can see it in your eyes
Tryna be strong, but it's hard not to cry
Have you starin' all night if heaven had a window, yeah

If it did, I would look through
And I'd tell you I feel your pain
Don't worry though, I'll hold it down until we meet agai-

I think I need a lil' more time
I'm not ready to cross that line
To the other side
So hold it down until we meet again
I think I need a lil' more time
I'm not ready to cross that line

To the other side
So hold it down until we meet again

I've been starin'
Out this window that...
Out this window that...
That...
That...
I've been starin'
Out this window that...
Out this window that...
That...
That...

I think I need a lil' more time
I'm not ready to cross that line
To the other side
So hold it down until we meet again
I think I need a lil' more time
I'm not ready to cross that line
To the other side
So hold it down until we meet again

Hold it down until we meet again
