

Promises

YONAS

Promises, promises

They don't really match my lifestyle

Everybody else talkin' about the future but I'm more concerned with right now

We ain't even really gotta fight now

Walk up in a room and it's bright now

Turn your emotions off, whatever

But please just turn them lights down

Yup, okay, you will find another man? No way

I'ma be the only one, I say

Please just turn them lights down

Uh, faith over fear

If you didn't know, now I'm making it clear

Everything you've heard in the past is the past

Just focus on the things that you hear right here

Promise me you'll never change

Promise me you'll stay the same

Promise me you'll never fade

From the new life that you made

I can't promise anything

Nothing's ever guaranteed

Nothing ever stays the same

My love is just one big game

That you play

Promises, promises

I don't really give a fuck, 'cause

You only get one life on this earth so you might as well live it up, and, and

Hopefully, it's you and I

But just in case it isn't

It's all good as long as all your friends stay out our business

Okay, you will find another man? No way

I'ma be the only one, I say

Please just turn them lights down

Uh, faith over fear

If you didn't know, now I'm making it clear

Everything you've heard in the past is the past

Just focus on the things that you hear right here

Promise me you'll never change

Promise me you'll stay the same

Promise me you'll never fade

From the new life that you made

I can't promise anything

Nothing's ever guaranteed

Nothing ever stays the same

My love is just one big game

That you play

Promise me you'll never change

Promise me you'll stay the same

Promise me you'll never fade

From the new life that you made

I can't promise anything

Nothing's ever guaranteed
Nothing ever stays the same
My love is just one big game
That you play
