Small House

Yonder Mountain String Band

I live in a small house
Bought a hole in the wall
You can feel the snow fall
Another old fool
Can't get myself out

Living in a small house
I'm alive, I'm alone
At my microphone
Can't get out of here
Can't get myself gone
Got a mind, I'm gonna find
A crack to crawl through
One of many dragged around by the few
Forgive and forget
It ain't better yet
Living in a small house

Waking up a small house
It's only a test

The sirens out west
Hang my head out the window
It's all I'm allowed

Some say by air
Some say by sky
Another loss you can't metabolize
You wait in the door
You wonder what for
Living in a small house

Ain't a hole, ain't a soul
Ain't a crack to crawl through
One of many dragged around by the few
Forgive and forget
It ain't better yet
Just living in a small house
