Fallacy

YonKaGor

My mind's a broken mess
Torn by the ones I thought were best
I trusted them with all my heart
And now we're back at start

Healing with time and pills
Through hurt that breaks the strongest wills
But surely it's why I remain
To suffer through this undesired pain

So here I lie in wait
For days I say it's all okay
Days fly by with no progress there
It's just too much to bear

Thoughts about you
Made me stop all the things I loved to do
Sleepless nights without a fight
But I still hope that you're alright

And so I gave myself to you
I didn't know I was used
Those strings of fate wound up my mind
My naïve heart took on that part
And said that I'll be fine

And once again I'm thrown into a maze of perjuries
I lied and turned a blind eye to your lair of felonies
And when it came the time for you to pay for all your crimes
I took it all and said the fault was mine
Though it's a fallacy
(Woo aohhh)

All of this blame you gave
Was just to make sure I behaved
And in the end through severed ties
I saw through all your lies

Inside your twisted cage
My blinded heart is filled with rage
This pain of mine was yours combined
And you should be the one confined

And so I gave myself to you
I didn't know I was used
Those strings of fate wound up my mind
My naïve heart took on that part
And said that I'll be fine

Now that I'm free, it's all so clear to see
That you were the one tormenting me
And in the year I thought this through and through
That I should be the one hating you

And once again I'm thrown into a maze of perjuries
I lied and turned a blind eye to your lair of felonies
And when it came the time for you to pay for all your crimes

I took it all and said the fault was mine
Though, it's a fallacy

And now I know the truth behind your weak hypocrisy
You won't chain me with your guilt cause it's all words of blasphemy
And now it's come the time for you to pay for all your crimes
I won't run right now at the end of the line
'Cause it's a fallacy
(Woo aohhh)
