

It's Normal

YonKaGor

Hello, how have you been today?
The same question for the fifth time this week
How forgetful was that chatty cliché?
Everything seems ordinary to me

Should I tell you I've been feeling down?
'Cause, well that's not really new
Oh well, I'll say something somehow
Though you want to hear me ramble
There's not much that I can say

'Cause everything seems normal
There's nothing to it, though
And how I feel, the face I show the world
They all seem so slow

Everything seems normal
No need to be upset
Don't concern yourself with my unhappiness
'Cause I'm sure it's normal

So, how was the party last week?
I'm sorry that I couldn't make it
Don't worry, it's not anything deep
I was feeling kinda reckless in the nights I couldn't sleep

'Cause everything seems normal
There's nothing to it, though
And how I feel, the face I show the world
They all seem so slow

Everything seems normal
No need to be upset
Don't concern yourself with my unhappiness
'Cause I'm sure it's normal...

To lose interest in life
And to wish you never tried
Isn't that what you call normal?
There is nothing I want
The only reason I went on
Is 'cause you'll feel regretful if I died

I've written three set-aside notes
Eight attempts without any results
But why should my stories be told?
They all seem too ordinary to me

'Cause everything seems normal
There's nothing to it, though
And how I feel, the face I show the world
They all seem so slow

Everything seems normal
No need to be upset
Don't concern yourself with my unhappiness
'Cause I'm sure it's normal
