

Rolling Thunder

Yoshi Flower

Your face tells me everything that you won't say
Praying that this feeling never fades
Burning like the sun in outer space

We stay
We stay

I can hear your heart beat and it sounds like
Rolling thunder, thunder
Frozen underneath you, all I need you

Crazy, we're connected
We were strangers 'till tonight
Or are we just affected by the chemicals and lights
Crazy, I would die for you
I don't care wrong or right
More than just familiar
Like I've known you my whole life

Afraid of what would happen if we leave this place
Peaking as your pulse begins to race
But I will not let my love go to waste

So, we stay
We stay

I can hear your heart beat and it sounds like
Rolling thunder, thunder
Frozen underneath you, all I need you

Crazy, we're connected
We were strangers till tonight
Or are we just affected by the chemicals and lights
Crazy, I would die for you
I don't care wrong or right
More than just familiar
Like I've known you my whole life

We wake up in the morning, void of serotonin
But it will all be worth it for this moment, for this moment
We wake up in the morning, void of serotonin
But it will all be worth it for this moment
