White Doves

Young Empires

It takes a thousand miles to reach the stars tonight
And you will find your dreams they come alive
It takes a thousand lives to save one life tonight
And you will find your dreams they come alive

In the sun, when you're young
In the sun, when you're young
You find a way back home, back home

In the sun, when you're young
In the sun, when you're young
You find a way back home

It takes a thousand tries, you'll get it right in time (in time
)
The answer lies in a starlight that shines
It takes a thousand miles to reach the stars tonight (tonight)
And you will find your dreams they come alive (alive)

In the sun, when you're young
In the sun, when you're young
You find a way back home, back home

In the sun, when you're young
In the sun, when you're young
You find a way back home

In the sun, when you're young
In the sun, when you're young
You find a way back home, back home

In the sun, when you're young
In the sun, when you're young
You find a way back home, back home

In the sun, when you're young
In the sun, when you're young
You find a way back home
