

My My

Young Summer

Living in the past
With the spells that you cast
Is it filling up your glass
Everything you have
Is the mask enough to save you
So the words don't get through
Can you laugh enough to drown out
Whispers of a break down

Truth be told I've been living in a lie
Fooling myself into wanting to hide
Isn't it nice to hide
I never get it right goodbye

All in my my
All in my head
All in my my
All in my head
All in my my
All in my head
All in my my
All in my head

Staring down this blue light
Going through my past life
Keep on cutting my teeth
Running down the same dream
And I wanna get it right
But not if at this price
Am I holding on too tight
Am I holding on too tight

All in my my
All in my head
All in my my
All in my head
All in my my
All in my head
All in my my
All in my head

You can make me forget
You can make me forget
Get me out of my head
You can make me forget

All in my my
All in my head
All in my my
All in my head
All in my my
All in my head
All in my my
All in my head
