

We Could Be The Heroes

Young Summer

It's time to be brave
Do what it takes
Running straight towards the fire
While the others run away
It doesn't feel right
To turn a blind eye
When we know there's so much at stake

We could be the heroes tonight
We could be the heroes
If we stay, if we rise
If we're fearless in the fight
We could be the heroes

There's dirt on our skin
There's chill in our bones
But we'll never grow tired
Of facing the riots
Battles will rage
A feeling so grave
It won't pull us under
When victory is our fate

We could be the heroes tonight
We could be the heroes
If we stay, if we rise
If we're fearless in the fight
We could be the heroes

We could be the heroes tonight
We could be the heroes
If we stay, if we rise
If we're fearless in the fight
We could be the heroes
