

Typhoon

Young the Giant

Over and over and over again the tide carries I give up my water and watch you sink in oh, the levy [?]
the night when the coastline breaks you hide in the fallen waves on the horizon - the sights of typhoon washing by
and the rise falling in too holding tight
and the dull effects of your suitcase
are cast up again

(oh the sun, oh the sun)
I give her my water and watch you sink in (oh mama, oh mama)
and night when the coastline breaks
you hide in the fallen waves
and the rise falling in too
hold them tight
and the dull effects of your suit case

ooh ooooooh oooooh
ooh ooooooh oooooh

and the rise falling in too
hold them tight
