YoungBoy Never Broke Again

Stole my heart, don't know where you run or you from
You left me alone with fire in my lungs
You just left me to burn, baby
I don't know where to start searchin' to find you
I don't know a place the devil'd hide you
I don't know where should I turn

Don't know why you want to burn me down
Beggin' you to save me, don't flame me, I need water now
Tears down my face, broken from heartbreak
Covered in face paint for to hide my shame
Need you to heal my pain, no one who I could blame
Just sittin' burnin', down from your flame

Told her stories 'bout my grandmother
And I seen her under eyein' about somethin'
Told her how I gotta stop thuggin'
I was gave a precious life, don't want it to turn out ugly
I ain't know this person

Stole my heart, don't know where you run or you from
You left me alone with fire in my lungs
You just left me to burn, baby
I don't know where to start searchin' to find you
I don't know a place the devil'd hide you
I don't know where should I turn

Don't know why you want to burn me down
Beggin' you to save me, don't flame me, I need water now
Tears down my face, broken from heartbreak
Covered in face paint for to hide my shame
Need you to heal my pain, no one who I could blame
Just sittin', burnin' down from your flame

Stole my heart, don't know where you run or you from
You left me alone with fire in my lungs
You just left me to burn, baby
I don't know where to start searchin' to find you
I don't know a place the devil'd hide you
I don't know where should I turn
