

I Know

YoungBoy Never Broke Again

You tellin' me you leavin' 'cause it's hard
Guess I should sit here while the devil dance on my soul
Fire burnin' in my lungs, can't get the words off my tongue
You're mine, I can trust you and I know that I know
Who is them to compete with me?
They ain't tryna roll up like us, I know, I know
It was only my niggas that put me on
They ain't give us one thing, and that I know

You still might as well say you mine
Just one look, I see the whole world in your eyes
Combination on my heart, no one could get inside
All the wrong ones want me, it's so bad
Should I run, if I
Please don't try to catch up this time
I need someone to hold me, keep me safe in this world
The moonshine, I can see it bloom in your eyes
Don't try to hide if you cry, I see your tears fallin' on the floor
Me, am I sorry?
If you leave, please call me
Please don't leave me all alone
Don't just hate me, take the money
You'll be fine without me
Than without you, I just can't hold on While my feelings drift with the wind
I have no friends
You the only lover I need to see
They throwing bombs and I don't have no shield
It seem like you ain't come around all year
Modification engines, I'm dependent
Done winning, I'm turnt for the year
Changin' my denim, linen got me feelin' like I'm the richest one here
, yeah
I'm the party, pull up, get it started
Got your friend all in my ear, yeah
Half a ticket Richard Mille
Bentley, jumpin' off the Lear

You tellin' me you leavin' 'cause it's hard
Guess I should sit here while the devil dance on my soul
Fire burnin' in my lungs, can't get the words off my tongue
You're mine, I can trust you and I know that I know
Who is them to compete with me?
They ain't tryna roll up like us, I know, I know
It was only my niggas that put me on
They ain't give us one thing, and that I know
