

Monsters

Youngr

School bell rings, I unpack my things
Another day of wasting my time
My head hurts, my dog ate my homework
I know that something ain't right
Teacher, teacher, don't teach me things
That don't mean a thing to my life
'Cause today's not the day for putting me in line

No, stop telling me what I gotta live for
You don't, you don't know me
Stop telling me I'm nothing but a dreamer
I'm a million miles away as I draw

Monsters from Mars with familiar faces
Lines on a page 'cause I'm just a daydreamer
And it'll all be over soon, over soon, over
And we can all go home

9 o'clock, I'm running out of luck
Wish I was waking up in my bed
Old man talking, I'm barely conscious
Didn't hear a word that he said
In one ear and out the other
Thoughts never touching the sides of my head
Today's not the day for learning anything

No, stop telling me what I gotta live for
You don't, you don't know me
Stop telling me I'm nothing but a dreamer
I'm a million miles away as I draw

Monsters from Mars with familiar faces
Lines on a page 'cause I'm just a daydreamer
And it'll all be over soon, over soon, over
And we can all go home
And we can all go home

So please don't think that you're right
Just 'cause I'm hurting your pride
I'm on the edge of my seat
My backside is begging me to leave
I got dreams of my own
I know things that you could never know
I'm a million miles away as I draw

Monsters from Mars with familiar faces
Lines on a page 'cause I'm just a daydreamer
And it'll all be over soon, over soon, over
And we can all go home, yeah
And we can all go home, yeah
And we can all go home
I'm a million miles away, I'm a million miles away
And we can all go home
