All the trades and thoughts and grades and pavement stains
And the neon tube you chose to have Sing into stainless steel for in a deal you realise
There's nothing to free and fall
This time can travel halfway
Take time and you're already there
Put down your sign and cry shouldn't move it
System has ninety-nine
There is war
They say
And all the trades to thoughts and grades

To pay for my own stains and the neon tube you chose to have
You chose them two shadows
And this time can travel halfway
Take time and you're already there
Put down your sign and cry shouldn't move it
System has ninety-nine
There is war
Just before
Oh this is war, yeah this is war, war
Put down your sign and cry shouldn't move it
The system has ninety-nine
There is war
There is war
